Daniel Hayes is a great professor. When he told us he was not going into academics, I expected him to get lazier, but he did not which I appreciated; it shows that he cares.

Everything was explained really well; however, I did feel that sometimes that amount of information presented at one time was a little overwhelming.

Very great and was my favorite instructor

Professor Hayes was one of my best professors this semester

He was great and made lecture interesting

Very clear at explaining the material; definitely has a passion for calculus and math in general.

Very helpful when going to office hours!

I thought professor Hayes was a great professor who really cared about us understanding the concepts. Although I struggled a lot with the content I feel like having Hayes as my professor prevented me from failing completely.

BEST PROFESSOR EVER, TOTALLY RECOMMENDED

Explains material well

Great instruction for most topics, some however could have been explained better.

This instructor was fantastic. He would invite us to talk to him about certain extra topics we could not cover, and he was passionate about what he was teaching, so it made the material more interesting.

I thought Dan did a good job presenting and teaching the information.

Was always prepared for lectures and had multiple resources available on Canvas.

I think that Daniel Hayes did a great job of offering help to us. He always notified us about when he is available for help and even changed his office hours so more students would be able to utilize them.

Overall, the class was taught relatively well, although I feel some topics could have been explained better.

Hayes was fantastic. A lot of my friends had other teachers and it made me feel lucky to have Hayes. He provided us with so many extra resources that other teachers did not supply their students. He was able to explain things in a very engineering understandable way.

Professor Hayes was very organized with his lecture slides and always went above and beyond to explain why and how the methods we are learning would be applied.

No additional comment. Dan has been amazing and it has been my pleasure, being his student

You are fire boss

Hayes was a very good professor. He always was prepared and helpful to anyone.

Very good professor

best math teacher ive had to date

N/A

Had a good pace during lecture, further explained things when needed.

I think the teaching methods used were effective

Dr. Hayes has been an extremely good teacher, and has done a very good job at teaching us the material of a very complicated class such as Math243.

In lecture I liked how the homework and the lectures correlated, the office hours really did help as well.

Instructor Hayes is very patient with the students and happy to help us solve our problems.

Explains theorems and problem solving really simply and always derived the easiest way to solve math problems.

very kind and willing to meet to explain/reexplain concepts outside of class and office hour time
